Rule 7 Ball Search: Finding and Identifying Ball

1. Based on information given by a spectator, a player identifies his or her ball within three minutes of search time; his or her ball is not lost in these circumstances.
True or False
2. While searching for their ball, a player happens to improve their area of intended swing by breaking several long grasses using a slashing action with a club. There is no penalty because they were searching for their ball.
True or False?
3. In stroke play, if a player accidentally moves their ball or another player's ball while searching for it there is no penalty, but in match play, if a player accidentally moves an opponent's ball they incur a penalty of one stroke.
True or False?
4. If a ball is accidentally moved during search it must be replaced if the spot where it originally lay is known, or dropped if the spot is not known.
True or False?
5. If a ball that was accidentally moved during search is not replaced at the spot where it lay or was estimated to lay, the player gets a general penalty.
True or False?
6. A player is playing a common brand of ball, but cannot remember the number and has not put any identifying mark on it. The player walks straight to a point in rough where he or she are sure the ball landed and soon find a ball of the same brand and condition lying there. The player may continue play with this ball without penalty.
True or False?
7. A player is not sure if a ball lying on a general area is theirs. They lift it without marking its spot, completely clean it with their towel and replace it where it lay. They get two one stroke penalties.
True or False?
8. A player who has not marked their ball with a personal identification mark, finds two balls of the same brand, model, number and condition as the ball they had played, in an area where they expected it to be. They may choose which ball is theirs and continue play with that ball.
True or False?
9. A player may rotate a ball lying on the general area, in order to identify it, without marking its spot first, providing they do not lift it from the surface where it lies.
True or False?
10. While searching for their ball, a player may move sand and water in trying to find and identify it.
